

Explosion Below Flight Deck Kills 91, Injures 201 On U.S. Carrier Bennington

Inquiry Charges Dropped

By Ed Creagh

Washington (AP) — The Republicans on the McCarthy-Army investigating committee threw out all charges against Francis P. Carr and H. Struve Hensel yesterday in the face of heated cries of "whitewash" from the Democrats.

The charges against Carr were dismissed over the objections, also, of Joseph N. Welch, counsel for the Army.

The 4-3 vote on Carr and Hensel came after Army officials rested their case in the 21st day of the televised public hearings and Roy M. Cohn, chief aide to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), was sworn in to lead off his side's testimony today.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), one of the three Democrats opposing the dismissal of charges against Carr and Hensel, declared: "I think this is a whitewash and I do not think we will get the truth."

Symington announced he would appeal the action to the full Senate and would move for a further investigation by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The GOP majority, however, held there had been no proof of "pressure" charges against Carr, staff director of McCarthy's Permanent Investigations Subcommittee, or of "blackmail" charges against Hensel, an assistant secretary of defense.

Thus the inquiry, now likely to end next week, narrowed to McCarthy and Cohn on one side of the fence and to Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams on the other.

The vote absolved the moon-faced Carr, who hasn't said a word in public since the hearings began, of Army charges that he, Cohn and McCarthy tried to get preferential treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine.

Likewise the vote cleared the six-foot-four Hensel of McCarthy's counter-charge that he masterminded the Army allegations in the hope of warding off an investigation of his World War II activities in connection with a shipbuilding firm.

McCarthy has charged that the Army used Pvt. Schine as a "hostage" in an effort to kill the senator's investigation of alleged subversives at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Odds Still Favor Steel Settlement

New York (AP) — Steel consumers are "whistling in the dark on the possibility of a strike," the Iron Age, national metal working weekly, said yesterday.

"Chances still favor a peaceful settlement," said the publication. "But union demands, which would cost about as much as total present wage costs, have shortened the odds."

Stockholders Decide Between White, Young For Control Of Central; Vote Count Starts

Albany, N. Y. (AP) — The bitter war for control of the vast New York Central Railroad was climaxed yesterday as 2,000 stockholders assembled in a meeting marred by disorder and confusion — but the result of the fight may not be known for days.

The meeting in an armory recessed, after a noisy four hours and forty minutes, until noon Tuesday when election inspectors will report on the tabulation of stock votes.

Until then no one will have official word on whether the management headed by William White, Central president, will remain in the saddle or whether it has been ousted by the opposition forces of Texas-born financier Robert R. Young.

White said tabulation of the vote for the new board of directors would take at least until Tuesday when the election inspectors are due to make their first official report.

But Young claimed an overwhelming victory.

"We have deposited proxies for more than a majority of the outstanding stock, so that if every share is voted we will still be elected," Young asserted.

Young, however, has been making flat claims for victory for weeks, as has management.

A Central spokesman commented: "That's just a claim. What counts are the votes and the number of proxies checked by the election inspectors."

White said Young had no way of knowing how many votes are being counted "unless he is trying to usurp the functions of our inspectors, which it looks to some of us he is trying to do."

The fight for the $2,600,000,000 railroad, the world's second biggest, has raged since February. The Central board then rejected Young's demand for the board chairmanship and a directorship for his associate, Allan P. Kirby, president of Alleghany Corp., which Young heads as board chairman.

Three inspectors of election — each a law professor — are scheduled to go into session from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., daily, without holidays, until the vote count is complete.

One informed source predicted the count could take weeks.

French Freighter Searched At Canal For Arms Cargo

Washington (AP) — The State Department said last night the French freighter Wyoming is being searched by U. S. Customs inspectors at Cristobal, Atlantic entrance to the Panama Canal, to determine whether customs regulations have been violated — presumably by carrying arms not shown in the cargo list.

Deadly Snakes Spread Terror Among Refugees

Tehran, Iran (AP) — Thousands of deadly snakes driven into the port of Khorramshahr by flood waters Tuesday spread terror among refugees crowding the city's outskirts.

Rumors swept the city that dozens of people were dead of snake bite. Iranian army authorities said the flood's only casualty so far was one soldier, drowned slipping off an embankment.

Defenders Pull Back In Indochina

Hanoi, Indochina (AP) — French Union defenders of the Red River Delta, already menaced by an apparent Vietnamese encircling advance and increased rebel attacks on key centers, yesterday blew up two of their own posts southeast of Hanoi.

The French hurriedly reorganized their bulwarks and shortened defense lines to meet the growing threats to their vital northern Indochina stronghold.

As tanks, armored cars, and planes furnished protective cover, the French evacuated and dynamited the posts at Tranne and Doanthon, only about 60 miles southeast of Hanoi. The posts, six miles southeast of Thai Binh.

Geneva (AP) — The French ordered a high military commander from Indochina to Geneva yesterday as a showdown neared in the prolonged talks to end 7½ years of hostilities.

The French commander was called to the scene to sit down with an opposite number in the Communist-led Vietnamese regime and draw cease-fire lines should the Indochina conference adopt new proposals advanced by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

U.S. Seizes 11 Puerto Rican Nationalists On Conspiracy Charges Against Government

Washington (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell yesterday announced a sweeping roundup of 11 leaders of the Puerto Rican Nationalist party on charges of seditious conspiracy to overthrow the United States government.

It was not immediately disclosed whether the arrests were aimed at nipping a new outburst of terrorism and violence by Puerto Rican extremists, such as the bloody shooting affray in the House of Representatives last March 1.

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said the party, founded in 1922, has a history "filled with violence."

Conviction on the seditious conspiracy charge would involve possible maximum sentences of six years in prison or $5,000 fine, or both.

Six of the suspects were seized in Chicago, four in New York City, and one in San Juan, the capital of Puerto Rico.

In addition, the Justice Department clamped down "detainers" on six other Nationalists, including four held in jail here on charges of shooting five Congress members in the House last March.

The other detainees were placed against two Puerto Ricans now imprisoned in the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn.

Following Brownell's announcement here, U. S. Atty. J. Edgar Brownell said in New York a federal grand jury yesterday returned indictments against the 17 arrested or detained Puerto Ricans.

Lumbard said the defendants allegedly planned to achieve their

Contractor Lays Stone At Cresco

Cresco — Crews of Lee B. Marks Construction Co. began laying stone on the 1,000-foot stretch north of the DL&W Railroad tracks here yesterday. The contractor said that, weather permitting, the entire section will be open to traffic by Saturday.

Once two layers of stone are placed on the road, officials said, the stone will be rolled and the entire Route 90 detour will swing open to Memorial Day traffic.

A statement issued by the department did not say specifically that arms were believed to be on board — possibly destined for Guatemala — but officials said that was the reason for the search.

The French Line office at Cristobal said the Wyoming carried a general cargo and that "No arms are aboard." The agent said the Wyoming is expected to pass through the canal today en route to El Salvador, Guatemala, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Vancouver, B. C.

The Wyoming is an 8,693-ton vessel, built in 1949 and fitted out in Le Havre, France.

The State Department's announcement said: "Before entering the canal, the French Line merchant vessel S. S. Wyoming, which is now at Cristobal, is undergoing inspection by U. S. Customs inspectors to determine whether there has been a violation of customs regulations."

"The ship's manifest reflects a miscellaneous cargo comprised principally of machinery."

"Included are five boxes of sporting arms but it is understood that no question is being raised about these."

"The inspection is being conducted with the knowledge and approval of the French government and the French Line."

Reports reached the government here late last week that two more shiploads of Communist arms were en route to Guatemala which earlier had received a 10 million dollar, 2,000 ton arms shipment from the Communist Polish port of Sietlin. Officials said last night that they could not state whether the ship being searched was one of the two about which reports had been received.

Laborites Going To Red China

London (AP) — The British Labor party decided yesterday to send former Prime Minister Clement Attlee and seven other top leaders to Communist China to promote British-Chinese friendship.

Aneurin Bevan, Attlee's rival for the party leadership, was the only leftwinger among the group named for the official visit in August.

goal of independence for Puerto Rico by "the attempted assassination of officers of the United States and Puerto Rico, including the President of the United States and members of Congress."

The four arrested in New York were held in $25,000 bail each pending arraignment on June 1.

Lumbard said the New York Grand Jury began its investigation last March 8 after the shooting on Capitol Hill.

Hoover noted in connection with yesterday's roundup that members of the Nationalist party were responsible for a bloody revolutionary outbreak in Puerto Rico in 1950, the attempted assassination of former President Truman at Blair House in November, 1950, and the recent fusillade of gunfire in the House here.

Monroe County Men On Ship But Not Hurt

Two Monroe County men missed death by a few minutes aboard the Bennington yesterday.

Scanty details of the near miss were received last night by the families of Gunners Mate John A. Walck, 23, and Seaman 1-c Paul H. Pipher.

Both sailors telephoned their families in this area about 8 p. m. They said there was no time to tell the whole story. Too many others were waiting for a chance to telephone home.

But this was the outline of the story they told:

The two friends had finished early morning chow in the mess hall several decks down about 6:15 a. m.

They left the mess hall and went topside. There they pulled out cigarettes and lit up. It was at that moment that explosions racked the ship.

The mess hall they had just left was one of the areas which the two said were torn to bits by the blast.

Pipher telephoned his wife, Shirley, who lives in Belvidere, N. J. She in turn relayed the news to Pipher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pipher, who now live on the Beaver Run Club property near Marshalls Creek.

Walck a few minutes later got a call through to his family — parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Walck, wife, Carrie, and baby, Sherry — at 275 W. Fourth St., East Stroudsburg.

A third Monroe County family to receive good news last night was the Andrew Dippre family at 24 S. Kinder St., East Stroudsburg. Their son-in-law, Fireman 1/c Robert C. Boehmer, 22, was aboard too.

During the afternoon the Dippres drove to Nuremberg, Pa., to stand by their daughter, Doris, in case the news should be bad.

It wasn't. About 6 p. m. the telegram was received at the house: "I am O. K. Don't worry, letter will follow." The thankful Dippres left their daughter and grandson, two-year-old Robert Charles, and drove back home.

Boehmer has been in the Navy three years, but was assigned to the Bennington only a few weeks ago to make the cruise.

Walck and Pipher have been on the carrier since their boot training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center in 1951.

In a sense the whole affair was a repeat performance for the Walck and Pipher families.

A little more than a year ago they sat and sweated it out when the word was flashed across the nation that a boiler explosion aboard the Bennington had killed 11 seamen and wounded seven.

That occurred off the coast of Cuba, and it was a day or two before the shaken families received reassuring telephone calls from friends of the two sailors.

It was also a kind of close call for two Monroe County men who were not even aboard the Bennington yesterday. The two, Roy Miller, of East Stroudsburg, and Charles Lee McDonald, 351 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, left the carrier a few months ago.

Both had been aboard here during the 1953 explosion. Miller is now stationed in port at Seattle, Wash., and McDonald is a civilian working at the East Stroudsburg A.P.

Walck said he may get home this weekend on pass. He indicated the ship would probably put in for repairs at Brooklyn Navy Yard. Pipher told his wife he didn't expect to get home. He added that it was "a terrible thing and an awful shock . . ."

Explosions seem to go with the name "Bennington." History shows that on July 21, 1905, a U. S. warship named the Bennington exploded off San Diego, Calif. Sixty-five were killed.

Although yesterday's explosion and fatalities rank among the major maritime disasters of the world, there have been many worse.

Probably the most tragic such disaster was the sinking of the German ship Wilhelm Gustloff off Danzig, with a load of refugees aboard. The deaths were estimated at more than 7,000.

Disaster One Of Worst In Peacetime

By The Associated Press
The worst disaster involving an American military vessel outside a military zone occurred in the Atlantic ocean two years ago.

A collision between the destroyer-minesweeper Hobson and the aircraft carrier Wagoff off the Azores took 178 lives on April 26, 1952.

However, there have been maritime accidents with a far greater toll of service personnel.

On April 27, 1865, the steamer Sultana, carrying exchanged Union prisoners of war, blew up near Memphis and killed 1,450 men.

During World War I, 431 lives were lost when the Otranto, a British ship carrying U. S. troops, sank in a collision off Scotland.

A World War II collision in the Atlantic caused the death of 218 men aboard the American destroyer Ingraham.

Perhaps the greatest number ever to perish in a single marine mishap occurred in November, 1948. Six thousand Chinese, including government troops, died when a crowded evacuation ship sank off southern Manchuria.

Deranged Woman Wounds Rector, Kills Mate, Self

Pittsford, N. Y. (AP) — A deranged woman yesterday shot and killed her husband, seriously wounded an Episcopal clergyman and killed herself in her home in this fashionable Rochester suburb, the sheriff's office reported.

Dead were Mrs. Amelia Goutre-mout and her husband, James Jr., a real estate man and proprietor of a trailer camp. Both were about 45.

The clergyman, Rev. Frank R. Fisher, 54, was visiting the home on a parish call.

He suffered wounds in the side and one arm. He was taken to Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester.

Triplets Born; Mother Surprised

Meadville (AP) — "I didn't expect twins, let alone this," said Mrs. Daniel Grudski, 29, yesterday after giving birth to two boys and a girl at Spencer Hospital here.

The babies weighed a total of 12½ pounds. Her husband, Daniel, said "I couldn't possibly be any happier."

The couple who live in nearby Hartstown have been married almost five years. The triplets are their first children.

The 33-year-old father is a production worker at Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant here.

Some Suffocated, Others Perished In Blast At Sea

Quonset Point, R. I. (AP) — A devastating explosion followed by searing flames took a toll of at least 91 dead and 201 injured aboard the aircraft carrier Bennington yesterday in one of the worst peacetime disasters in U. S. Navy history.

The Navy announced the high casualty figure some 17 hours after disaster struck the Bennington as she cruised calmly some 75 miles at sea.

Scores were trapped by the tremendous blast below the flight deck. Hatches and bulkheads were sealed, blocking off escape for many. Some suffocated, others perished in flames.

Crewmen who survived told of escape hatches, sealed by explosion, "cluttered with bodies of injured and dying men."

Seaman Edward Cushman of New Milford, Conn., related how he talked by phone for an hour and three quarters with an unknown number of trapped buddies until they suffocated.

"The last words I heard were 'This is my last breath'," Cushman said. "Hatches were blown closed and bulkheads were curved in," said George Vega, 25, Brooklyn, N. Y. "Everybody worked hard but we were too late."

The 32,000-ton Bennington was northbound in serene seas under a sunlit sky when the big ship was shaken by a loud explosion.

"We had just completed our first successful launching of the first of our air groups," said the Bennington's new skipper, Capt. W. F. Raborn Jr. of Oklahoma City, "when suddenly an explosion shook the forward part of the ship down on the second or third deck."

"Realizing a catastrophe had occurred we launched the rest of the air group to free the decks for casualty control."

"The cause of the explosion was undetermined," Capt. Raborn said. He placed the general location as in one of three or four "major items of equipment."

"The best information" he told newsmen, "is that it occurred possibly at the 5-inch fuse magazine." But he added:

"This is completely unconfirmed and until we do get information I can only say it was a serious explosion at the third level on the port side."

Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas flew on from Washington and after conferring with Capt. Raborn said he had ordered an investigation of the tragedy.

He expressed sympathy for the men of the Bennington and their families, as did President Eisenhower in a White House announcement.

Adm. John H. Henshaw, who lost his right leg in the Pacific, directed the helicopter rescue operations. He said many lives were saved by prompt evacuation by air.

He said the exact location of the explosion was not known but that it probably was in the general vicinity of the ward room. In naval parlance the ward room is "officers' country." If this proved true casualties among the officers might be high.

Hoskins said the tragedy was one of the worst in peacetime he could recall. He added that he didn't believe there was any possibility of sabotage but that such an angle will be investigated along with every other.

Secretary Thomas said a naval Board of Inquiry will meet today. He said search for bodies in the Bennington still was continuing.

Later Capt. Raborn said "I am damn proud to be commanding officer of such a heroic, unselfish crew of American seamen."

He said he believed all the bodies had been removed; that the fire was relatively minor, and that the damage was caused by the explosions.

Some survivors said they heard at least three explosions.

The skipper of the Bennington said the explosion was near living quarters and that is why so many lives were lost.

Hoskins said a court of inquiry had been appointed and that he is the president of the board. He said hearings will be open to the press while non-classified material is being put into the record.

Capt. Raborn described the disaster this way:

"I was standing on the bridge at about 6:20 a. m. I noticed a puff of white smoke up forward. There was a small explosion followed by a larger explosion. I ordered the planes launched. We got off about 60 planes. We lost no planes."

The planes, many of them jets landed at the Quonset Naval Air Station.

In a question period Capt. Raborn said there were many acts of heroism and that he is confident there will be many citations.

Status Of Men Relayed To Anxious Kin

Quonset Point, R. I. (AP) — Nervous and anxious relatives and friends or personnel aboard the ill-fated aircraft carrier Bennington huddled in small groups in a theater last night awaiting news of their loved ones.

A direct telephone line was set up between the naval air base theater and the explosion and fire-ravaged carrier some distance away.

A solemn air hung over the theater. Conversation was low. Chain-smoking was common. Many persons just prayed silently.

Only an occasional cry of joy or a sigh of relief broke the tomb-like atmosphere. The utterances came from a man or woman learning his or her husband, father, son—or just a friend—had escaped death or serious injury in the disaster early yesterday.

A Protestant chaplain, Lt. Cmdr. George Fuller, a Southern Baptist minister, and his Wave assistant, worked like beavers to determine the status of men who were aboard the craft.

Chaplain Fuller took names of Bennington personnel from the anxious persons. The names then were relayed to the carrier by telephone. If the man was aboard the big craft he either came to the phone or sent a message.

If he came to the phone, his name would be called off over a loudspeaker system in the theater. A relative or friend then could say hello. The common conversation consisted of "Hello, I'm okay, goodby."

About one-third of the carrier's personnel was granted liberty. Many rushed to the theater for joyous reunions.

Persons who learned their loved ones were safe, quietly left.

But others fled in to wait.

pital at the Newport Naval Station all were considered as "bed cases, men in no condition to talk."

Officers in charge of the hospital banned interviews, explaining "these men have been given sedatives and can't be disturbed."

Back in the base theater at Quonset about 100 members of families of the crew sat in anxious silence, waiting for word of their loved ones.

Tales of heroism unfolded after the carrier docked here about 12:30 p. m.

Grim lines of crewmen, their faces smoke-grimed and oxygen masks hung over their shoulders, lined the deck of the carrier when she docked. Scores of ambulances and stretchers waited to spring into instant action in getting the injured to hospital.

Helicopters had taken off some of the more seriously wounded as the Bennington moved slowly toward shore. They were landed in a field near the Newport Naval Hospital.

Ens. Robert Grant of Brooklyn, N. Y., unimpaired of raw bleeding ankles, directed the evacuation of the injured.

"This was worse than war," he said with a tight-lipped, strained expression.

L. S. Hoffman, 98, Dies; Civic, Business Leader

Luther Smith Hoffman, one of Monroe County's oldest and best known citizens, died at 6:30 a. m. yesterday at his home, 256 Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

A former president of a lumber company and a bank, Mr. Hoffman also was an active church and civic leader.

Mr. Hoffman, who was 98 on Monday, was born on Franklin Hill, Smithfield Township, May 24, 1856, a son of the late Charles and Elizabeth Smith Hoffman. He had been in failing health for the past two and a half years.

Charter member of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg; Knights of Malta, Stroudsburg, and the Stroudsburg Rotary Club, he also was one of the founders of Monroe County General Hospital.

Mr. Hoffman received his early education in the public schools of Franklin Hill five months a year, helping his father farm the remainder of the time. He later attended Millersville Normal School and Orangeville Academy.

In 1876 Mr. Hoffman began teaching in a school on Milford Road, just east of East Stroudsburg. Nine years later he entered the carpentry field and in 1899 secured half interest in the Rhodes and Hoffman Lumber Co.

From this firm came the corporation, East Stroudsburg Lumber Co., of which Mr. Hoffman was first president. He resigned active duty with the firm in 1929 due to ill health.

One of the organizers of East Stroudsburg Board of Trade, he held the post as president several years. He also was credited with assisting the movement for a playground in the borough and was instrumental in having boys' camps located in the county, principal of them being Camp Miller of the Lutheran Church.

Mr. Hoffman was superintendent of Grace Lutheran Sunday School and was active in all phases of church work.

He was a director and vice president in the early formation of the Paradise Falls Lutheran Association of the Pocono Mountains. In 1922 he was elected president of Monroe County Bank and Trust Company, serving in that capacity until his retirement in 1931.

Mr. Hoffman helped to organize the Sun Printing Co., publishers of the Morning Sun of East Stroudsburg, in 1925 and was president of that company.

He became a charter member of the Knights of Malta in 1897 and an original member of the Rotary Club. In 1926 at a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs he was awarded the Kiwanis medal for outstanding work in the county.

His wife, the former Carrie Grace Keller died Nov. 12, 1931.

Surviving are his son, Oram P. Hoffman; two daughters, Miss Ellen E. Hoffman, at home, and Mrs. Mary E. Rosenberry, Camp Hill, Pa.; two grandsons, William Hoffman, of Stroudsburg and Dr. Edward Rosenberry, of Newark, Del., a great grandson and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Saturday in Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. Rev. William F. Wunder will officiate. Interment will be in Prospect Cemetery, East Stroudsburg. Relatives and friends may call at the Lanterman Funeral Home, East Stroudsburg, from 7 to 9 p. m. Friday.

Slow Down And Live!

The National Safety Council announced this week traffic accidents may kill 340 Americans during Memorial Day weekend starting at 6 p. m. Friday and ending midnight Monday.

If weather is good, that figure may even be exceeded out of the 35,000,000 motor vehicles moving on the holiday weekend.

Note National Safety Council said "MAY" be killed. Chances are they will be correct unless every motorist on the highway adopts and sticks to this advice—"SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!"

The experience of states, counties and municipalities tells us nine out of ten traffic accidents result from the action of drivers afflicted with the "in a hurry" complex—the "me, first" attitude.

On the highways this viewpoint is expressed in the traffic violations involving SPEED, including: speed too fast for conditions, excessive speed, following too closely, failure to yield right of way and improper passing.

In 1953, 11 Northeastern states joined together to control highway speeds in the peak period of Spring, Summer and Fall travel. They established the direct relationship between convictions for speeding and traffic casualties. Those states which dealt most severely with the "in a hurry" drivers reduced traffic deaths, traffic injuries, or BOTH.

In 1954, 13 Southern states were joined with the Northeastern group to present a solid front against the menace of the driver whose desire to be "first" imperils the thousands of courteous, cautious drivers.

The program is NOT a gigantic speed trap. It is a sincere effort by state, county and local officials to save life, limb and property.

The program is the greatest concentration of traffic law enforcement aimed at the most dangerous type of violations in the entire history of the traffic safety movement.

So, beware, and remember—from Passamaquoddy to El Paso the watchwords of the highways are the same—"SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!"

Let DEATH HAVE A HOLIDAY this Memorial Day weekend.

The Poconos On TV

The Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau entered the television field on a cash supporting basis Tuesday night to publicize the East's major resort region.

The enterprise, brainchild of Eastern Poconos, its president Bill Altier and others in that group, was developed by the ingenuity and indefatigable efforts of Fran Shinn with an insistence it represent ALL of the Poconos.

Development of the TV film fell to Shinn because of his long experience with major radio and TV networks and major advertising agencies. His enthusiasm knew no bounds—even to heavy out-of-pocket expenses.

The result after, begging, borrowing and—even winning—material here and there was a "professional" film covering ALL of the Poconos and, more than that, the cultural life of the region, its churches, etc.

PMVB directors decided to allocate $1,000 to the TV project.

The film has already been shown on Baltimore TV and is headed for Boston and New York, Bill Altier of Eastern Poconos discloses.

Since the impact of this type of advertising covers ALL the Poconos—as it should—and serves merchants, bankers and others as well as the resort industry, it must follow that those who benefit have a responsibility for furthering its effectiveness by contributing their fair share to its continued operation.

—by H. I. Phillips

"THIS IS WHERE HE CAME IN"

Welcome, Haile Selassie, the Man Who Saw It Coming...

the Fellow Who Gave the World Its Greatest Tip-off...

the Ruler Who Put the Finger on Chaos Via App-a-senents!

Of all men on earth you have the best claim on the global title of "Mister I-Told-You-So."

It seems only yesterday that Mussolini, throwing his weight around and picking you as Victim Number One, got the green light from a League of Nations, touching off a chain of events that put the world in the soup.

The great men of the earth fawned, side stepped and gave you the most fateful brushoff in history, cried, "One side, bub!" and came through with the "Don't bother me" treatment deluxe.

They went for Benito of the Balconies, noisier of nose-thumpers, and Hitler's boisterous buddy as a crucifier of small nations, and let him ravage the oldest Christian realm on earth. One word or gesture of support for you, Lion of Judah, Emperor of Ethiopia, might have made the crummy dictators jump out of the ring. Any other answer except "No Soap" to your plea for justice and guts might have saved civilization from its greatest blood baths, and grogery blood baths to come. But they gave you the works. We can't help wondering what your thoughts are as you see the skyscraper of the United Nations. Wonderful building... lots of windows... speed elevators... spacious halls... grand cocktail bar... ideal location... handy to the best restaurants, musicals and night-clubs. Yeah!

But we fancy you say to yourself, "Where are the fire escapes this time?" You are entitled to be Skeptic Number One and we imagine that when you visit the U.N. building your first thought will be: "Does it have the old trapdoor and the chute to the basement?" ... "Does it have the automatic conscience soother, the Look-the-Other-Way routines, the This Way Out signs and the Here's Your Hat? What's Your Hurry Parlor? You will wonder if this League, like the old one, has a "Take-a-Powder Room" for all crucial meetings of the diplomats.

Uncle Sam is giving you a great welcome. For a five-foot-four man you rate big. Your words to the League going on two decades ago, in an hour of appeasement, will be quoted again and again. The U.N. will throw a party for you June 1, with a reception and gala dinner. You will be all for the United Nations and hope for its success as all people do. But you won't be too impressed by the scenery, the menu, the toasts, the clinking of glasses, the words of the diplomats and all the "modern improvements." You played in the old League. You were released to the minors. You got the "You're a nice guy but we don't want to be thinking deeply. So you will be thinking deeply. And wondering. Maybe during the dinner the toastmaster will say, "Tell us a story, oh Lion of Judah, Elect of God, King of Kings, Branch of the Tree of Solomon, Implement of the Holy Trinity!" And what a STORY YOU CAN TELL, EM! Might be a good idea if you did, too.

Believe it or not, with $3,000 in cash on the Groucho Marx show for the right answer to "What President's wife's family bore the name of Dowd?" everybody muffed it... we thought everybody knew about Mamie Eisenhower... "Sorceress" won a race at Garden State at $20 and Shudda Haddim says nobody told him she was a "flying sorceress."

"Paste in your hat that high-voltage statement of Senator Mundt, "Senate committees have made mistakes and will always make mistakes. But no mistakes they have made rooting out Communies have topped the mistakes of the executive branch in putting Communists in our government. No Senate committee ever put an Alger Hiss in the State Department or a Harry Dexter White in the treasury."

But we fancy you say to yourself, "Where are the fire escapes this time?" You are entitled to be Skeptic Number One and we imagine that when you visit the U.N. building your first thought will be: "Does it have the old

IT ADDS UP TO JUST ONE THING!

Robert S. Allen Reports

Nixon Will Be Main Speaker During Campaign This Fall

Washington — Vice-President Nixon will be the Administration's main campaigner in the scorching fall battle to re-elect a Republican Congress.

President Eisenhower has personally decided that. The President will do some electioneering himself. It will consist mostly of sorties to major centers, largely in the eastern half of the country. But Nixon will carry the principal load as the Administration's top performer on the hustings.

In the eight weeks between Labor Day, September 6, and the election, November 2, the California will cross-cross the country. He will campaign in every state and many of the districts where Senate and House seats are in doubt.

The Republican National Committee already has tentatively scheduled 30 Nixon speeches, which will be broadcast locally or nationally.

Under present plans, most of this strenuous campaigning will be done by special train. This may be modified later. Also, as in 1952, Mrs. Nixon will accompany her husband.

In preparation for filling this stellar electioneering role, the Vice-President will speak for the Administration at certain carefully-selected and timed GOP events. They will range from New York to California, starting with the Republican dinner in New York this week.

The most significant of these addresses is the one Nixon will give at the $100-plate dinner on June 26 in Milwaukee, Wis.

This was arranged directly through the White House.

Partisans of Senator Joe McCarthy wanted him to be the main speaker at this important statewide gathering. To forestall this, other Wisconsin leaders appealed to the White House for a substitute whom the McCarthyites couldn't block or attack. Nixon was the answer.

The Vice-President is slated to act in this capacity in other places. His function will be to counteract McCarthy by stressing Administration achievements and loyalty.

Notes: National Chairman Leonard Hall has written to every cabinet member and other top officials about their fall campaigning plans, particularly in their home states and sections. ... The National Committee is also preparing an elaborate nationwide advertising drive in newspapers and other publications. The ads will be financed by local groups and individuals and will appear in the last four weeks of the election. The ads will stress state and congressional candidates; still under discussion is whether President Eisenhower's name should be included. ... Over-all Republican campaign strategy is outlined in a memorandum titled "1954."

Tit For Tat — Democratic congressional leaders have decided to "return the compliment," as they are sardonically describing it.

They will fight adjournment of Congress unless a definite understanding is obtained on a possible resumption in the fall. That's what the Republicans did during the Truman Administration, and the Democrats propose to do the same thing to the Eisenhower regime.

They've served private notice of this on the Republican leaders. The Democrats have them at a particular disadvantage in the Senate, where the GOP lack the votes to force adjournment. If the Democrats can't wind up the session, the Democrats decided on this retaliatory course after several statutory pass-overs. They fixed no date for the fall return. Instead, they will demand a commitment that Congress will be re-opened after the November election if the Democrats deem foreign and domestic conditions warrant that.

The Democrats have told the GOP that concern over the perilous situation in Red-menaced Indo-China and the economy at home are the reasons for this stand.

An unvoiced factor is the belief of the Democrats that they will win control of the next Congress. It doesn't get under way officially until January, but they want to make the most of their victory by getting an early start.

Explained, At Last — Senator Styles Bridges (R., N.H.), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, finally cleared up a matter that had been baffling a number of his colleagues.

It was why the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics has such a large budget. It is $35,600,000 for the coming fiscal year, a $2,600,000 increase over the current year.

Senator Paul Douglas (D., Ill.), a persistent economist, demanded a $3,000,000 cut in "this money child."

"This agency has spent enormous sums over the years for purposes not known to the public or the Senate," asserted Douglas, "and it's time we know a little something about it and what it's up to."

"The NACA does have some mystery about it," admitted Bridges, "but the money is being well spent. It's being used for the construction of enormous wind tunnels. The life of the country may depend on these tunnels. I quote from a confidential report 'The possession of superior aircraft and missiles is vital to our national security and such superiority is achieved and maintained only through continuous research and development.' It is in wind tunnels that flying missiles and jet planes are developed."

"Then this is a genuinely important appropriation," said Douglas.

"It is second in importance only to the appropriation for the atomic program," replied Bridges. "We would be cutting off our own noses if we cut this appropriation. If our country is to hold its own in a world which we sometimes think is mad, we must leave nothing undone to enable us to compete on the basis of our greatest asset, productive capacity. We cannot hope to resist our enemies solely by manpower."

The Senate approved the "mystery" appropriation.

Before the use of safety glass in automobiles, 45 per cent of all motorists injured in accidents were cut by broken glass.

George Sokolsky Says...

Russia Can Use Universal Copyrighting Plan To Make Money At American Expense

On September 6, 1952, the Universal Copyright Convention was signed at Geneva, Switzerland. It has been lying about in the archives of the State Department and the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations since then waiting for ratification, with which the Committee is now proceeding.

A Universal Copyright Convention would be excellent if it were universal and in all respects reciprocal. This particular document is not reciprocal because none of the countries in the Communist world provide for any system of copyright protection for alien works, whether printed or unprinted books, articles, plays, musical compositions or motion pictures. The United States has never had a copyright convention with Russia in Czarist or Soviet eras because Russia would not agree to reciprocity.

Article VI of the Universal Copyright Convention contains a trick clause which excludes recordings. It reads:

"Publication," as used in this Convention, means the reproduction in tangible form and the general distribution to the public of copies of a work from which it can be read or otherwise visually perceived."

This is a curious provision that baffles understanding. Why should sheet music come under the provisions of this Convention and not recordings? Sheet music involves visual perception; recordings involve auditory perception. Is the eye to be prejudiced as against the ear? Why the fine distinction?

Precisely what happens when a symphony orchestra plays Shostakovich? If the Russians have arranged a "back door" non-reciprocal transaction, the symphony orchestra must pay royalties, but a recording company, selling thousands of recordings for use in the home or a juke box, does not have to pay a royalty. Why is this? Who arranged for a special advantage or disadvantage, whichever it may be, for the recording companies?

The "back door" arrangement is as follows: The Russians produce a work, but so far as the United States is concerned it is not copyrighted because they do not provide reciprocal protection in their country and they have not agreed to the Universal Copyright Convention. However, they give world-wide rights to a Swiss or a Swedish or an Englishman or someone who belongs to a nation within the copyright convention. He copyrights the work in his country, whereupon it immediately becomes part of the universal agreement. He collects the royalties for his principals behind the Iron Curtain.

Millions of dollars could then find their way from the United States to Soviet Russia, to Poland, Rumania, Red China, etc. This is particularly true in the field of music as Russian music is played often in this country. Why should millions of American dollars be sent to Russia or to any country behind the Iron Curtain? It would also apply to Russian books and motion pictures.

Once this Convention is established, if I quote from Stalin or Lenin or any Russian in an article, the Kremlin could, under this Convention, sue for royalties if they employ the "back door" process. Or they could prevent the publication of what they want to suppress by setting their royalties too high or by having their agents object to quotations. On the other hand, they could print all the American books they desire without paying royalties and we would have no claims under any agreement.

Now, any writer favors copyrights and there is no reason why Khachaturian should not receive royalties for his "Sabre Dance," which was such an enormous success and appeared on The Hit Parade. But as long as his country provides no reciprocal arrangement to protect Cole Porter or Irving Berlin or Aaron Copland, then we ought not to send millions of dollars to Russia to protect their writers, composers, motion pictures, and everything except recordings. Apparently, the record companies have some kind of an inside on this deal.

The basic principle of copyrighting or patenting in the international field must be reciprocity. This has always been the abiding principle. If any country chooses to remain outside the copyright or patent convention, using "back door" methods to protect her own people but never reciprocally protecting others, then the transaction is unfair and wrong and should not be permitted. And the Senate ought not ratify such an agreement.

This is another little transaction in which the Russians are, as usual, playing a few little tricks and they find Americans to help them who are without understanding of the problem.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

Did you ever hear of the Kalpa-Tarou tree?

I have one in my garden right opposite my study window, and every day I pick luscious fruit from it.

You might have one, too. Only you might have neglected it. You might not have given it enough water. You might not have let the sun shine on it. You might be altogether too busy with mundane things to enjoy its fruit, its shade, its beauty.

If you have such a tree in your yard, start to cultivate it at once. You'll be surprised how much it will mean to you, in youth as well as in later life.

The Kalpa-Tarou tree is not anything that you can buy in nurseries. You can only grow it from seed, and the seed lies in your own mind and in your heart.

Another word for Kalpa-Tarou is IMAGINATION.

In Hindu mythology, the Kalpa-Tarou was a tree from which the people gathered whatever their hearts desired. The fruit of the tree enabled them to do anything, be anywhere, be anybody they desired. In Hindu chronology, the word Kalpa stood for a day or a night of Brahma, or a period of 8,640,000 solar years.

In other words, the worries of tomorrow were 8,640,000 years away if you ate of the fruit of the Kalpa-Tarou; or, the other way 'round, by the same token, something that you could ordinarily not have achieved in 8,640,000 years would happen to you the very same day you ate of the fruit—in Hindu mythology.

I wish I could start a little Kalpa-Tarou farm and give seedlings to all the thousands of people in this world, who are tied down to realities and who never have the time to let their imagination give them the solace and the peace they could use to such wonderful advantage.

Ronson Plans To Maintain Employment Level Of Late 1953

New Products To Be Made At Plant Here

Shawnee-on-Delaware — Introduction of several new lighter models, diversification of products, including a new electric shaver, and expanded plating facilities in the local operation will enable Ronson Corp. of Penna. to reach and continue the employment level maintained in local operations during the latter part of 1953.

Louis V. Aronson, 2nd, president of Ronson Corporation, cited these facts at a meeting of the firm's entire national sales organization meeting at Shawnee Inn here yesterday.

The sales group covers representatives from all over the United States, Canada and England.

While here, the sales representatives made a tour and detailed study of local operations.

J. H. Storer, general manager of Ronson Corp. of Penna., said the entire group "were very enthusiastic in their interest in Ronson during the tour of local plants. They were very much impressed with the few days they have spent in this region," Mr. Storer added.

Conferences started Monday and will run through Friday.

"We are very happy to have our first sales conference of this type in this area which, in turn, gives us and our sales organization first hand knowledge of how our lighters are produced in the East Stroudsburg plant," Mr. Aronson said yesterday.

"It enables our entire sales organization, including representatives from England and Canada, to get to know the people in this community, and get to know more about the community."

"The local operation is a very vital part of the entire Ronson manufacturing and sales organization, and with the introduction in the near future of our expanded plating facilities, we intend to increase our production of lighters in the Stroudsburg plant."

"It is the goal of the Ronson management to reach and continue the employment level maintained at the East Stroudsburg plant during the latter part of 1953. This will be no problem in the near future inasmuch as the purpose of the recent sales meeting was to introduce several new models and a diversification of products which will tend to expand our sales and manufacturing facilities," the president emphasized.

Mount Pocono School Board Raises Tax

Mount Pocono — Borough school directors adopted a $35,396 budget for 1954-55 last night.

Millage rates for the new year were set at 33 mills—6 mills higher than the current year. The per capita tax stayed the same five dollars per person.

William J. Hines Jr., board secretary, said the increase in millage rates was necessitated by employment of an additional teacher for the coming school year.

Mount Pocono's school taxes were dropped last year by the board. During the 1952-53 year the millage was set at the maximum allowable rate—35 mills per thousand dollars of assessable real estate.

For the 1953-54 school year the mill rate was lowered to 27 mills per thousand. The per capita stayed at five dollars each year.

In addition to approving the new budget, the board elected Mrs. Jeannette Walker to the office of board treasurer for the new year. Board members attending the meeting were John Plevyak, president; Mrs. Verna Kohn, Dr. E. O. Hendrick and Mrs. Walker.

Secretary Hines is a non-member official of the board. Appointment of the additional teacher will bring the total number of teachers employed by the board to three.

School Union Petitions Signed By Three Boards

Petitions asking county commissioners to put the question of a union school district for Stroud Township, Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap before voters in November were signed by the three boards last night.

Each board signed a petition drawn up by its solicitor. All three petitions must be approved by the Department of Public Instruction in Harrisburg before commissioners can act on them.

Wording of the three petitions was basically the same. Solicitors for the three districts are: Stroud, Edward Williams; Delaware Water Gap, Alex Bensinger; and Stroudsburg, Arlington Williams.

Using the Stroud petition as an example, this is the way the petitions read:

"To the Honorable, the Commissioners of Monroe, State of Pennsylvania:

"The petition of the school district (name of district) respectfully represents:

"One—That your petitioner desires to form a union school district with the school district of the Borough of Stroudsburg and the school district of the Borough of Delaware Water Gap, all three districts being within the territorial limits of the county of Monroe...

"Two—That the members of the school district of (name) township are: (with list of board members) all of whom have subscribed their names to this petition.

"Three—Accordingly your petitioner prays that you submit to the electors of the aforesaid school district... at the next general election... a question of whether or not the school districts of Stroud, Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap shall be united into a union school district."

Drawing up of the formal petitions follows instructions outlined in Section 251 of the School Laws of Pennsylvania. That section says that a petition, signed by a majority of members of each board, should be presented to commissioners after approval by Harrisburg.

With approval of the petitions by Harrisburg—which has already taken a stand favoring combination of school districts—the union question should be on election ballots in the three districts in November.

Delaware Water Gap board members were hosts at last night's combined dinner meeting which was held in the borough Presbyterian Church.

Following the dinner, members of all three boards discussed a possible program of information for voters in the three areas. Board presidents Henry LaBar of Delaware Water Gap and Loring Craney of Stroud reported favorably on Parent-Teachers Association meetings held in their districts at which the proposed union was discussed.

Harry Hamblin Looks Back On 51 Years As Educator

By Leonard Randolph

When Stroudsburg High School closes this year, Harry T. Hamblin, Swiftwater, will have completed his 51st year as a public school teacher.

It will be his last. Hamblin is retiring, effective at the end of this school term.

The white-haired, soft-spoken man began his career as a teacher in public schools in 1903. In that year he was hired as a teacher in the Paradise Township School.

Three years later he accepted a position at the Mount Pocono School; taught there four years. At the end of that period he returned to Paradise, teaching in that district for another 19 years.

In 1929, Hamblin was hired to teach in the Stroudsburg school. During the early part of his teaching career in the borough he taught English to ninth graders.

The years that followed brought several changes in Hamblin's subject matter. Since he was certificated on a permanent basis by the State Department of Public Instruction with training in varied fields, Hamblin was able to teach a variety of subjects.

He is still teaching under the same certificate. His early education included training in New York City public schools; college degree and graduate work at City College of New York and subsequent courses at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

AFTER 51 YEARS in Monroe County public schools, Harry Hamblin, Swiftwater, is retiring at the end of the current school year. Hamblin, is shown here at his desk in Room 16 at Stroudsburg High School. The school will observe "Harry Hamblin Day" today.

E. H. Wyckoff Tells Club Of European Trip

E. H. Wyckoff related impressions gained in his recent European trip before the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club yesterday afternoon.

Presented by Fred W. Kogley, program chairman, Mr. Wyckoff told of the fine receptions in the 16 or 18 countries visited. High praise was given transportation facilities.

Hotels were declared "tops," but cold. Scenic views were beautiful in many countries. Speaking of business, he declared the Europeans certainly go after it with a vim and vigor that American business men could well follow.

The stores, too, were pictured by the speaker as immaculate, beautiful in every respect. Visitors to the stores received most hospitable reception, and service was excellent, Mr. Wyckoff said.

Farming conditions, however, and the speaker were very bad. In Spain, they were still using single-hand plows and the like. He said he saw but one tractor.

Many churches were visited and he said they were "up against it," adding, there was not much life in state controlled churches.

Mr. Wyckoff told of hearing an Episcopal Church rector preach a sermon in Rome when he advocated combining various denominations, but declared this would not come about until the laymen take it in hand. The clergy, the rector said, were too busy discussing various dogmas and the like. However, he did believe the desired change would take place and continue as long as the laymen remained active.

Walter Wyckoff showed colored slides of pictures taken on the trip, some of which were by Henry G. Tucker, a member of the group.

A delegation of five members of the Stroudsburg club—J. J. Cowley, J. B. Dunkelberger, H. L. Sutton, Elwood Hintze and Dr. C. W. Dupree, president—paid an inter-club visit to the Hackensack, N. J. club last Thursday night.

Daily Record
N. 7th Street,
Stroudsburg, Pa.
To The Editor:

"Gosh folks, it sure feels great to be a public spirited citizen, oh yes."

What is the real truthful meaning of a public spirited citizen? Going to church? Treating your friends and fellow citizens as you would have them treat you? Doing good and helping your fellow men? Well folks we seem to have a few public spirited citizen soldiers in the National Guard Unit in Monroe County. We are all public spirited in some way or manner, but we must fully recognize the truthful meaning of being a public spirited citizen.

Our Local National Guard Infantry Company must be organized from public spirited citizens. Why? Your National Guard means security for you in Peace Time, War, or Emergencies. A National Guard Company keeps down your taxes. It provides a large income to our country. Businessmen of all types benefit by the added income. Taxes are so much lower in keeping a Citizen Soldier than a Regular or Full Time Soldier.

Training a Citizen Soldier, equipment for same, keeps your taxes lower. Citizen Soldiers are secure in finishing school or work when they join the National Guard before they become 18½ years old. They train at home with well trained and experienced officers.

Public spirited employers show their real spirit of cooperation when they permit their Citizen Soldier employees to go to camp for two weeks of training. Why? Businessmen and employers of Citizen Soldiers don't need to worry about their security in Peace or War.

Citizen Soldiers can find the best type of correspondence courses to qualify them for better paying civilian jobs, officers commissions, or appointment to West Point. They also obtain leadership training as well as direct others in leadership. Promotions are open to the men who show interest and the ability to lead and direct others.

Public spirited citizens help your National Guard now. Don't let them down. Keep your Guard up and you can feel secure. They won't let you down. We need more public spirited citizens to enlist in the Local National Guard Company, Company G, 109th Infantry (NGUS) now. Don't bypass this issue because this isn't a bottle neck, no, we all have something to think about here. Be prepared with a strong National Guard Company here in Monroe County.

Dr. F. Munson Is Speaker At PTA Session

The final meeting of the Hamilton Township Parent Teachers Assn. was held at the Hamilton Elementary School, Sciota, Monday night with Verdon Frailey presiding. Dr. Frederick Munson, of East Stroudsburg, spoke on cancer.

There was a large attendance of parents, teachers, school board members and interested persons. The attendance award of two dollars went to the seventh grade for having the most parents in attendance.

Mr. Hartley, a representative of visual aid equipment, demonstrated a movie projector, screen and sound equipment, which he said would be left at the school for a trial period.

Mr. Frailey suggested the visual aid committee consult with teachers and school board members with reference to purchase of an outfit, which he said should be decided before the beginning of the next school year.

Mr. Frailey retiring as president after three years thanked officers and committee for their cooperation.

Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Mrs. Raymond VanWhy; vice president, Mrs. Gwen Vety; secretary, Mrs. Mildred Cyphers; assistant secretary, Mrs. Lucy Warner; treasurer, Mrs. Bradley Randall. There was no formal induction.

A program was presented by seventh grade pupils under the direction of their home room teacher, Mrs. Mildred Cyphers. Tommy Field was announcer.

A short skit, "The Ladies' Aid Church Supper," was given with Joan Hunt playing the part of a very efficient worker; Louise Pensyl as a magazine writer; Beverly Bond, a matrimonial minded woman; Monica Boyd, the kind of person you just can't get along with; Joan Sprague, whose feet hurt her; and Anita Ace, who substituted for Lois Buzzard, unable to be present.

Five numbers were played by the Harmony Band and they also sang "Whispering Hope." Piano solos were presented by Sally Feitig and Joyce Kresge. The concluding number was a folk dance with Anita Ace caller. Mrs. Cyphers was accompanist.

The guest speaker, Dr. Munson, discussed the subject, "The Prevalence of Child Cancer." He brought out many facts and stated that cancer in children was fairly rare, about seven cases in a thousand. He stressed the fact that heredity was no factor and told various kinds of child cancers.

Included in the list was leukemia, blood vessel tumor which is not always cancer, bone tumor which is more common among boys than girls; kidney tumor and cancer of the adrenal gland. Of these, he said, leukemia is the most common and it progresses much more rapidly in children than in adults.

Dr. Munson described the various treatments of the disease such as surgery, chemicals, X-rays and the latest, radio active isotopes.

Following the address, Mr. Hartley showed a movie, "The Warning Shadow," which dealt with lung cancer which it was pointed out threatens every man over 45. Necessity of frequent X-rays was brought out and also of patients who have been cured by early surgery, among them being the first man, a doctor, who underwent the first complete pneumectomy in 1931, who

Just Between Us

—By bobby Westbrook

With the trend to make something out of something else—yep, cobbler's benches into coffee tables and old jugs into lamps, comes another using old draperies to make skirts.

Seems that the new skirts of tapestry and chintz might well be duplicated in drapes—and if they're faded why so much the better—gives that antique look so popular.

Well, anyway, the drapes I saw had been made into a pretty handsome skirt.

Which brought up a discussion of whether it was better to have an attic full of stuff you never find a use for—or to give or throw away anything you were discarding immediately.

Seems if you save it for ten years, it makes the task of finally throwing it out that much dustier. If you throw it away immediately, the next day you find just the perfect place where you could have used it.

And of course, there are some things that won't stay thrown away but keep making their way back into the house as one member of the family or the other decides they might come in useful.

The only really satisfactory way to get rid of it, I think, would be to have someone else clean your attic for you while you're miles away and can't interfere.

Make sure an electric appliance is cool before you wrap its permanently attached cord around it.

The minute Edna Brockman mentioned a proposed South American trip over the air wishful thinkers began talking about reservations. Edna Harmon, still drooling over her memories of Guatemala, is among those who feels there might be more in Brazil than coffee. The trip, still in a tentative stage, will probably be scheduled for October, but it won't be a case of "Flying Down to Rio." It will be made by boat. Anybody want to row with me? HENTRA! HENTRA! READ ALL ABOUT IT! Meaning, of course, the new Hex jewelry of Pennsylvania Dutch inspiration just introduced by the Robbins company. This company formerly manufactured only class rings, fraternity pins, and such, but of late has ventured into the realm of costume jewelry. We women can be thankful too, for the prices are very reasonable in view of the workmanship and styling. These pieces in particular are "extra special"—large medallions in typical heart and tulip design, dangling from necklace or bracelet-length chains, drop earrings, and collar pins. If anybody'd care to pin a "hex" on me, let them go right ahead! I'm willing. . . . Gloria Bonser, of our credit office, would probably be more interested in the enameled medallions decorated with antique cars. Gloria's husband recently purchased an actual relic of by-gone days, and they're finding as much pleasure in it as you and I might find in a new Packard. Hobby horses are fine, they say, but gas powered hobbies are better. . . . For someone who loves mysteries, it's very tantalizing to receive two letters, one from Allentown and one from Philadelphia—requesting "assorted copies" of the Wyckoff Shopper column. Adding to the excitement is the fact that both correspondents are male. I would have sworn that only women read shopping chatter! . . . Betty Shively beat a hasty retreat the other afternoon when I walked through Sportswear just as she was modeling one of our cotton bathing suits. Of course an extensive assortment of cottons at $5.98, as well as Catalinas priced from $9.98 to $18.98, and Janisens, at $10 to $22.50. What does the average woman require of a bathing suit?—First, that it be bare enough for style, and second, that it be ample enough to hide her defects. Manufacturers know this, and design suits that enhance many figures, without detracting at all from the perfect beauty who needs no assistance in the glamour department. . . . A call from Mr. Kerlin advises me that the floor covering department is swamped and needs help. And what are people buying? All sorts of things—mops, wax, seatter rugs, window shades, venetian blinds, and the like. They know that at Wyckoff's, second floor rear, you can find hundreds of useful items to make house cleaning easier and houses lovelier. . . . Have an extra dollar you'd like to invest right now in a happier, less expensive Christmas? Then notice that our beautiful Italian dolls, with their expressive eyes and adorable dresses, are marked way, way down. It's never too early to give a kindly thought to Santa Claus. . . . Dottie Dunn reports a visit with Thelma Gordon, who's home from the hospital and feeling more like her usual brisk self. Thelma's department is one of the most fascinating in our store, and one item there that many mothers will appreciate is the Play Yard Canopy priced under seven dollars. It's of heavy cotton fabric, practically water-proof, and can be attached easily to the playpen to shield Sonny from sunny. . . . These are big sales days at Wyckoff's, so why not brighten your Memorial Day weekend with our fairer-than-fair specials? Our mark-downs can chalk up added convenience, pleasure, and rest for you. Come in and see for yourself!

WPVO To Air Safety Story

"Dead Stop" is a full hour program to be presented by WPVO as a public service in cooperation with the National Safety Council. This program is made up of on the scene recordings of automobile accidents. The entire show is narrated by "Red" Barber, sports announcer who lost his mother-in-law in an auto accident.

This is a sobering program. Some people will find it shocking.

It presents the bare facts, the chilling screams of mangled accident victims, men, women and children. Listeners hear a man gasping out his last words in a prayer of mercy as he dies on the operating table following a horrible auto accident.

WPVO will broadcast "Dead Stop" twice. It will be heard Friday from 4 to 5 p.m. and again on Saturday from 7 to 8 p.m.

Penn Inks Stanley As Cage Mentor

Philadelphia (AP) — Raymond A. Stanley, a Penn court star in the late 1930s, yesterday was named Penn basketball coach, succeeding Howie Dallmar.

Dallmar, who served as both basketball and basketball coach, is going to Stanford University as basketball mentor. No one was named immediately to Dallmar's basketball post at Penn.

Stanley, a Penn graduate in the class of 1938, played on the 1937 Eastern Intercollegiate basketball league championship team that won all its 12 games against Ivy League competition. He is single and a resident of Narbeth, Pa.

Lafayette

Stanley in 1941 served as coach of the Penn junior varsity football team that won five of 10 games. Following naval reserve service that included coaching assignments at the Sampson Naval Training Center and the Plattsburg, N.Y., Naval Officers Center, Stanley went to Lafayette College as assistant director of athletics and assistant basketball coach. He took over as head coach in 1950 and 1951 season. His teams won 35 of 50 games.

Stanley was the guest speaker at the Monroe County League basketball banquet one year while at Lafayette. The banquet took place at Bartonville Hotel.

Two Negro Players Fail

Gastonia, N.C. (AP) — Two of four Negro boys who applied for positions on Gastonia's all-white American Legion junior baseball team were dropped after trials yesterday, along with eight white prospects.

A league official had said the Negroes would get equal treatment with white players. The two remaining Negroes will continue trying out along with approximately 30 white boys, with assurances that they will make the team if their play qualifies them.

First Time

Negroes have played on Legion teams from other sections of the country participating in the national tournaments in the south but junior Legion followers here believe it's the first time that they have applied for membership on a Southern team.

Godfrey's Colt To Make Debut

New York (AP) — Lord Willin', the handsome big two-year-old colt owned by radio and television star Arthur Godfrey, is scheduled to make his racing debut today at Belmont Park.

High Price

Godfrey paid $38,500 for the chestnut son of Case Ace-Dutch out at the Saratoga yearling sales last summer. He was the highest priced yearling of 1953.

Former Minor Leaguer Dies

Rochester, N. Y. (AP) — William J. "Uncle Bill" Lawson, 76, former minor league shortstop, died yesterday.

He had played with Troy in the New York State League; Jackson, Miss., in the Cotton States League; Wilmington in the North Carolina State League, and with Paterson, N. J.

Ennis, Jones Lead Phillies To Nod Over Bums

Brooklyn (AP) — Del Ennis and Willie Jones drove in seven runs last night as the Philadelphia Phillies dumped the Brooklyn Dodgers out of second place in the National League with a 8-6 victory, their second in seven starts against the league champions.

Ennis accounted for five of the runs with a three-run homer, a sacrifice fly and an infield grounder that scored a man from third. Jones' triple in the seventh scor-

Pocono A. C. Falls Before Late Rally By Bath, 3-2

Errors Kill Giffels Field Tennants

Bath overcame a two-run deficit at Gordon Giffels field last night and went on to score a 3-2 victory over Pocono A. C. in a Blue Mountain League baseball game. The contest was limited to six innings because of darkness.

The loss was the third straight for the A. C. contingent after an opening day nod over Portland. The win was the second straight for Bath, a club that opened the season with three straight setbacks.

Pocono A. C., behind the pitching of Bill Sommers, East Stroudsburg High ace, held a 2-0 lead after three innings but couldn't halt the visiting nine in the closing frames.

The host club scored in the second when Randy Morris, a left handed batter, lashed a double down the left field line and went to third on a single by Dave Nevil. Nevil, Stroudsburg High outfielder stole second, Morris scored and Nevil moved to third on the first of three singles by Harold White, East Stroudsburg High star.

Nevil was home on an attempted squeeze play, but was waved back to third when Russ Staples was declared out for stepping across the plate.

Second Marker

Art Schaare singled in the third, went to second on a wild throw and stole third. The East Stroudsburg State Teachers College athlete raced home on Bob McIlman's fly to center.

Bath started its uphill fight with a singleton in the fourth. Vince Dieter singled to open the frame and Sherwood Siffes was safe on Schaare's error, Dieter moving to third. Paul Struss fled to Al Adelman and Dieter scored after the catch.

The visiting team won the game with two runs in the fifth. Stan Dech launched the rally with a single and was out at second when Tom Komenas bunted to Schaare, who threw to Paul "Doc" Lim.

Komenas was out stealing, but Frank Jurassits doubled to left on a disputed play, Melman got his glove on the ball but the outstanding catch failed as the ball dropped into the bleachers. Paul Henning walked and Jurassits moved to third on an attempted pick-off play. Dieter wrapped up the ball game with a single that scored both runners.

Dech limited Pocono A. C. to seven hits, but Sommers did an even better job by giving up only four safeties.

Six Pocono A. C. errors proved fatal to the home club.

The two arch rivals battled tooth-and-nail through the early innings, with the Eagles leading 1-0 and then 2-1.

A double with two mates aboard by Ted Evans gave Jack's Market a 3-2 edge in the fifth.

Seven Hits

Jack's club lashed out seven hits, while the Eagles were limited to four by Marc Decker.

Martins Creek Wins Over Johnsonville

Martins Creek — A big four-run fourth inning enabled Martins Creek to protect its undefeated Blue Mountain League baseball record and earn a 5-1 nod over Johnsonville before 150 people here last night.

The victory was number five of the young campaign without a setback. Johnsonville now has a record of two wins and three defeats.

Johnsonville opened the scoring by reaching veteran Bill Golds-worth for a single run in the first inning. After that Golds-worth was the master, retiring 14 batters on strikes and allowing only three hits. The Martins Creek hurler allowed only one walk.

Gain Lead

Martins Creek came back to tie the count in the second and then exploded for four runs to put the game on ice.

The winning club hanged out eight hits, including a booming triple by Dick Pritchard.

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Harry Schaeffer, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and former pitcher with the Stroudsburg Poconos, won his initial start with Toledo, of the American Association by beating Columbus, 8-7. Schaeffer was optioned to Toledo by Toronto, on entry in the International League. Harry, a southpaw, was one of three hurlers in the game. He worked five and two-thirds innings, gave up five hits, walked three and retired one batter on strikes.

Schaeffer, who had two brief flings with the New York Yankees, is now back with George Selkirk, who found the winning combination for Harry when he was at Kansas City. Selkirk and Mickey Owen, who was catching with Kansas City at the time, straightened out the ESSTC grad and got him a second shot with the Yankees. Selkirk is now in his second year as pilot of Toledo, a farm club of the Milwaukee Braves. Schaeffer remains the property of Toronto.

Ed Varhely, another former hurler with the Stroudsburg Poconos, was sold by Havana, International League, to Atlanta, of the Southern Association. Varhely is also a southpaw pitcher. Atlanta is another farm of the Milwaukee Braves. Clair Bloss, veteran infielder-outfielder with the Tannersville entry in the Pocono Mountains League, was recently named field captain by his teammates. This is the first time in recent years that the club has had a field leader.

Walking off the field is becoming quite a habit with baseball players at one school in Monroe County. A youngster took leave of the game unexpectedly and without permission for the second time within a week on Tuesday. For some unknown reason the youth of this area refuses to recognize the fact that they are receiving tremendous opportunities in athletics. If their fathers had received the same breaks in sports the area would boast many more professional athletes than it does at the present time.

Bill Bailey, former football and basketball star at Stroudsburg High, is home from St. Paul's College, in Virginia, for the summer. Bill ran the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes on the track squad this spring and also played football and basketball during the present school year. Barrett's entry in the Babe Ruth League of the Stroudsburgs received its uniforms for the coming campaign the other day.

Dick Schaller, former first baseman with Stroudsburg High and Pocono A. C., an entry in the Blue Mountain League, is playing a similar position with an Army contingent in Alaska. Officials at the recent Bangor High Track and Field Day program were Armon Williams, Enio Conti, John Heard, Paul LaBar, Madison Owen, Sam Smith and Henry Williams, all faculty members.

It is quite possible that Walter Slog, veteran pitcher, may return to action with Lake Harmony, Pocono Mountains League, in the very near future. Slog, a resident of Lansford, with Lake Harmony last season, has plenty of pro experience with Allentown, of the now defunct Inter-State League; Lancaster, of the same circuit; Oneonta, Canadian-American League, and Bangor, of the now defunct North Atlantic League.

Ronson, a member of the Babe Ruth League of the Stroudsburgs, will practice at Gordon Giffels field on Friday, at 6:15 p. m.

Giants Squeeze By Pirates, 2-1

New York (AP) — Davey Williams, hitting a paltry .173 belted one of Vernon Law's pitches into the upper deck of the Polo Grounds yesterday for the decisive run as the New York Giants defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 for their fifth straight triumph.

Williams, threatened with loss of his job as recently as last Sunday because of his light hitting, smacked three hits Monday night. One of these also was a home run.

Four Hits

Two errors and Williams' single to right in the third gave the Giants their first run.

In contrast to the 22 hits they

Colonial Diner, always within striking distance, pulled to within one run of the high flying Vets with three markers in the second, but two more counters in the fourth failed to pull the Dinermen back into the contest.

Scagliotto pitched a three-hit masterpiece for the Vets, while his teammates could account for only four safeties off Rusk.

Each team committed four errors.

Giants Lose Thompson

New York (AP) — Henry Thompson, third baseman of the New York Giants, suffered a chipped bone in his left knee when he slid into the shinglers of Jack Shepard, Pittsburgh Pirate catcher, in a close play at home plate Monday night. X-rays yesterday disclosed the injury.

Thompson will be out approximately 10 days and is expected to be on crutches for three days.

Bill Gardner, 27-year-old rookie infielder up from Nashville, will take Thompson's place in the lineup.

Baltimore (AP) — Clair Bee, coach of the professional Baltimore Bullets, said yesterday he was at Toledo University earlier this week to see Burt Spice, his third draft choice, and not about a job for himself as the college basketball coach.

Story

The Toledo Times had a story yesterday "that Bee was very interested in the position" and "is in the number one spot." Jerry Bush resigned recently as Toledo coach to go to the University of Nebraska.

Moon Shines In St. Louis

St. Louis (AP) — Wally Moon is doing his best to make St. Louis Cardinals fans forget Enos Slaughter. He's batting .336.

Moon, the rookie who replaced Slaughter when the old war horse was traded to the New York Yankees, ran wild Monday night in helping the Cards to a 9-4 verdict over the Chicago Cubs.

The rookie's four stolen bases fell just one shy of a 50-year-old so-called modern record of the National League.

"I'll take another crack at it one of these days," Moon said after the game.

IBW Players To Hold Drill

Rookie Hurler Triumphs In Initial Start For Tigers, 6-3

Detroit (AP) — George Zuverink, a tall, 27-year-old right hander, made his first major league start a winning one yesterday, pitching the Detroit Tigers to a 6-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Zuverink, who had pitched for Cleveland and Cincinnati, was troubled by base runners in every inning but was steady enough to send the Orioles down to their sixth straight defeat. He allowed eight hits.

The Tigers backed Zuverink with an 11-hit attack against Don Larsen, who suffered his fifth defeat—three to Detroit—against a single victory.

Home Runs

Vic Wertz and Sam Mele hammered home runs for Baltimore. Wertz, fighting a 263 slump, drove his first home of the season—and only his second extra base hit—in the second inning to give Baltimore a 1-0 lead. Mele hit a two-run homer in the eighth.

In between, however, the Tigers, led by Harvey Kuenn scored five runs against Larsen. Kuenn collected three singles and knocked in three runs.

Detroit scored three times in the third on a walk to Frank Bolling, a stolen base, singles by Fred Hatfield and Kuenn and a looping double to left by Jim Delsing. The Tigers pushed their lead to 5-1, scoring twice in the fifth on Bolling's single, a double by Hatfield and Kuenn's two run single which took a bad hop past second baseman Bobby Young.

Chisox Edge Indians On Michaels' Hit

Chicago (AP) — Cass Michaels' long bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth gave Chicago a 5-4 victory over the jittery Cleveland Indians yesterday to move the White Sox to within a half a game of the first-place Tribe.

Michaels smashed a 3-1 pitch by the fifth Indian pitcher, Hal Newhouser, far over the centerfielder's head to score Nellie Fox from third with the winning run.

The White Sox had exploited five stolen bases and a pitching error for a 4-2 lead going into the sixth when Al Rosen smashed his 12th homer of the season.

Deadline

The Indians tied the game at 4-4 in the top of the ninth as pinch-hitter Joe Ginsberg slammed his first hit of the season, a triple to deep center, after George Strickland had singled with one out.

The game's second great Sox throw to the plate cut down Ginsberg as he tried to score the lead run on Al Smith's left to Johnny Groth in center. In the seventh, another long fly by Smith was turned into a double play by Minnie Minoso's great peg from left to nail Strickland.

Strafaci Misses Easy Putt To Bow Out Of British Amateur

By Sterling Slappay

Muirfield, Scotland (AP) — Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., missed an easy three-foot putt on the 25th green yesterday to lose a heartbreaking overtime match in the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf Tournament.

Mountains Little League Lists Action

Two games are on the agenda of the Pocono Mountains Little League today, both scheduled to get underway at 6:30 p. m.

One contest will pit Barrett Rotary against Barrett Lions, at Mountainhome's Siglin field.

The other game will send Mt. Pocono Rotary against Barrett Lions, at Mt. Pocono.

Openers

Opening games in the circuit were held last Monday, at which time Mt. Pocono Rotary defeated Barrett Rotary and Pocono Lions took the measure of the Barrett Lions.

In case of rain today the games will be played on the same field and at the same time tomorrow.

Michigan Elects Baseball Captain

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP) — Danny Cline, a 22-year-old outfielder from Brockport, N. Y., was elected captain of the University of Michigan baseball team yesterday.

Football

Cline, who bats left and throws right, had a .301 average this season. He is also a leading candidate for left half on the Wolverine football squad.

The defeat of the swarthy New Yorker at the hands of Australia's young Peter Toogood after a spectacular comeback overshadowed the advance of five Americans—the two prime U. S. favorites, Frank Stranahan and Bill Campbell, and a trio of servicemen.

Survivors

The surviving U. S. servicemen were Harold Ridgley, a 40-year-old master sergeant from Haverstown, Pa.; Dick Davies, the 23-year-old golfing sailor from Annapolis, Calif., and Major W. D. Henderson of San Francisco, who registered from a London club.

Fans even deserted their own champion, Irish Joe Carr, to watch the marathon battle between Strafaci and Toogood that carried seven holes and almost two hours beyond schedule. Carr kept pace with the favorites.

At the end of the day's wearying double round of eliminations, the field had been reduced to 32 and eight Americans had been sent to the sidelines—four in the third round and as many in the fourth.

Greene-Dreher Host To Barrett

Junior Youth Fellowship Entertains Parents, Friends

Delaware Water Gap—Junior Youth Fellowship of the local Presbyterian Church concluded its study on Thailand Sunday night, entertaining parents and friends at a special program in the Sunday school rooms. Piano selections were given by Sandra Carlton, Marianne Drake and Mary Etta Gray. Eleanor Kulp was pianist for group singing. David Chamberlain gave the call to worship; Camille Buzzard, the Scripture; Marianne Drake and Mary Etta Gray, opening and closing prayers; Elizabeth Redzig, Ingrid Weekwert and Sandra Carlton, vocal trio. The latter group also was joined by Carol Snyder and Susan Heitler forming a chorus.

Mrs. Mildred Buzzard, adult leader, presented the second part work; Marianne Drake, government and Ingrid Weekwert, work among lepers.

Mrs. Buzzard showed colored slides of Thailand and gave a resume of two letters from Rev. Robert Bradburn now assigned with his family there on missionary duty. Rev. Bradburn is the former pastor of Shawnee Presbyterian Church.

The leader announced the group's campaign to raise funds toward purchasing a chime set for a Thailand church is meeting good success. To date, she said, about 80 per cent of the goal has been attained. Before the program ended guests present added the remaining amount to send the campaign over the top.

Following the program youths displayed their handcraft, consisting of illustrated pages on Thailand, and maps of that Far East country. Mrs. Buzzard gave each member a gift and special awards went to Eleanor Kulp for serving as pianist, and to Marianne Drake and Elizabeth Redzig for 90 per cent attendance. Serving of refreshments followed.

Dedication Rites To Take Place

Korean People Need Help, Vets Report

Elmer D. Christine, Pennsylvania state co-chairman of the "Veterans March for Korea," said yesterday there is greater urgency than ever for veterans and all Americans to come to the financial aid of the Korean people.

"Whatever we do will not only be an act of mercy, but the knowledge of our deeds also will penetrate the Iron Curtain," Christine said in a statement.

Thousands of posts and auxiliaries of every war veteran organization throughout the commonwealth are obtaining signatures for freedom scrolls to be presented to Korean President Syngman Rhee and funds to buy food, medicine and clothing.

The state VFW leader who also is Monroe County district attorney, has a working committee, comprised of the commanders and presidents of all veterans organizations and their auxiliaries in Pennsylvania.

Gov. John S. Fine, now on a Korean inspection trip for President Eisenhower, is honorary chairman of the veterans' committee.

World Calm To Revised Tariff Policy

By J. M. Roberts Jr.
Associated Press News Analyst

The administration decision to drop its over-all tariff revision program for this session of Congress has less effect on America's international relations now than it would have only a few months ago.

You will recall that the program presented to Congress was the result of a study by a presidential commission initiated at a time when Britain, Europe and Latin-America were calling for recognition of the fact that the United States still maintained a tariff policy, though greatly modified in application, which stemmed from the time she was a debtor nation instead of the world's largest creditor.

Congress passed a one-year extension of the reciprocal trade laws in order to give the commission time to do its work, and the administration announced there was going to be a complete overhaul.

The commission came up with a report which pleased neither the free traders nor the protectionists. But still the program would have greatly relieved other countries which needed America as a customer but were still suffering from unfavorable trade balances.

They still are, Latin-America, especially, is still clamoring for freer trade.

In Europe, however, with the possible exception of France, things are a great deal better than they were a few months ago. Britain, in particular, whose voice was loudest in the "trade not aid" campaign, has been closing the dollar gap and building up her exports at a great rate.

Recent figures reveal that Europe's dollars and reserves increased four billion dollars in 1953.

Europe has gone right ahead with the production gains made under the Marshall plan. Industrial production is 40 per cent ahead of 1948, the first year of that plan and 35 per cent ahead of 1938, just before the war.

This expansion can be continued if the American tariff wall does not go up in reaction against increased foreign sales here. It will be greatly accelerated by any reductions which Congress feels it safe to make without too great a threat to American employment.

But the urgency is less, and the time for careful consideration greater, than it appeared to be last year.

For one thing, European business men note with great pleasure that they have not felt the effects of the American business readjustment or "recession," and that the worst of that now seems to be over and the future to look brighter.

This greater confidence is responsible for the fact that the decision to delay action—except to extend the reciprocal trade arrangements for the interim—has brought no greater howl from abroad.

Tourists in Cuba can obtain free drinks at several distilleries which operate cocktail lounges where all drinks are on the house.

Memorial Day First Observed By Citizens Of Southern City Honoring 1865 War Dead

By Raymond Wilcox
Central Press Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Memorial Day is observed wherever the American flag flies, but time has dimmed the memory of its inception.

Strangely enough, America's first Memorial Day saw hundreds of residents of Charleston, S. C., lay flowers on the graves of Union soldiers, their civilian enemies.

The guns of the Civil War had been stilled for only a few weeks when James Redpath, strolling through a Union graveyard near Charleston, was saddened by the sight of cattle pasturing there.

WITH THE HELP of volunteers, he fenced in the place and then obtained permission from local authorities to dedicate the sanctuary. Hundreds of people, led by children, turned out for the ceremony and covered the graves with flowers.

Thus was the first Memorial Day observed. The date was May 1, 1865.

The next observance occurred in Illinois. One day, in the spring of 1866, two Civil War veterans were sitting on the steps of a country church when they noticed a young war widow enter the adjoining churchyard, accompanied by two little girls. The three placed flowers on a grave and departed.

THE TWO SOLDIERS, discussing the incident with friends, broached the thought of having a day set aside for decorating all the graves. They put the matter up to Gen. John Alexander Logan, the leading citizen of Carbondale township.

As a result, on April 29, 1866, "Black Jack" Logan, mounted on his horse, led more than 200 veterans and a throng of townspeople to Woodland cemetery. Logan spoke over the graves of his departed comrades, shots were fired over their last remains, and a bugler sounded taps.

SEVERAL YEARS later, Logan, then an Illinois representative in Congress, recalled the incident while talking with a newspaper friend. He said there had since been similar observances elsewhere, in Gettysburg, Pa., and in Petersburg, Va.

Why, asked Logan, would it not be appropriate if one day was set aside for a general observance in honor of the nation's heroic dead? Logan had just been elected commander of the Grand Army of the Republic. He discussed the matter with his officers and it was decided that May 30 would be a good day since, as one of them pointed out, many flowers were then in bloom.

LOGAN ISSUED an order to all GAR posts throughout the nation to arrange "such testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit." Newspaper and public response was instantaneous.

The first general Memorial Day was observed on May 30, 1868. A Washington newspaper carried the following account of the ceremonies under the heading, "Decorations of the Soldiers' Graves at Arlington."

THE ITEM READ: "The exercises were opened at one o'clock in front of the Arlington Mansion by W. T. Collins, Esq., who read the general order (GAR) designating the 30th of May as the day to be observed throughout the United States in decorating the graves of the Union dead."

"Rev. Byron Sunderland then offered an impressive prayer, after which an appropriate hymn was sung. Hon. James A. Garfield was then introduced and delivered the oration, which was very appropriate and listened to with marked attention . . .

"AN ORIGINAL poem was read by Hon. J. C. Smith. The services at this point concluded with a solemn dirge by the 44th Infantry band."

Children of the Soldiers and Sailors Orphan asylum then "marched around the graves along the line of march."

By 1891 every northern state had set the day aside as a legal holiday, while in the south some states observed it then and some on other days.

Rotation Grazing Is Helpful In Reducing Soil-Water Loss

By A. Norman Dietrick
County Soil Conservationist

Rotation grazing is a soil and water conservation practice which is receiving more recognition each year. Like all sound soil conservation measures, it results in higher yields at the same time it is reducing soil loss and run-off.

This is true because the rotation of smaller pastures, rather than the continuous grazing in one large field, gives the plants a rest period in which to recuperate and develop more vigor. There is also less waste from trampling, and less compaction of the soil.

Continuous grazing will often result in such compaction and close cropping that the more desirable forage plants such as ladino clover are seriously damaged or completely eliminated.

Naturally the run-off is greatly increased as the soil becomes less porous. The rest period gives nature a chance to restore the nattural porosity of the soil.

In the management of ladino clover this rest period is very important, and should continue for about three weeks. Livestock should be removed when the plants have been eaten to about four inches in height. This is especially true in the fall of the year otherwise the plant is subject to winter killing.

Clipping just before removing the livestock will reduce waste and also relieve competition from weeds, coarse grass or other less desirable vegetation.

It also permits a more uniform growth of new succulent forage.

Rotation grazing is being practiced by many Monroe County farmers, including Arlington Martin of Effort, Clyde Dietrick of Melanville, David Griffith of Kresgeville, Tom Rogers of Hamilton Square. All are cooperating with the Monroe County Soil Conservation District.

Borso Seeks Commutation Of Life Term

Harrisburg — (AP) — A Northampton County man who killed his wife because, as he once said, she complained about the coffee, yesterday made a second appeal to the State Pardons Board for a commutation of his life prison sentence.

Geza Borso, 66, in his request for clemency, told the board that he had a lapse of memory and actually meant to kill himself and not his wife.

He was sentenced to life imprisonment in January 1948 for first degree murder a year after his wife was fatally shot.

In November 1952 the pardons board rejected his first plea for a sentence commutation. Yesterday's request was not opposed by the Northampton County district attorney's office. It was presented by Paul A. McGinley of Allentown.

Gene D. Smith, commonwealth secretary and a board member, told McGinley he felt the application was "entirely too premature." Smith pointed out that Borso has been in jail about seven years.

The average prisoner serving a life sentence in Pennsylvania spends about 19 years in actual confinement, according to board records.

The case was taken under advisement by the board. It usually announces its decision in such appeals within a month.

Life Never Monotonous At Charles Wilson Home

(Third of a Series)
By Mrs. Charles E. Wilson
As Told to Leonard Snyder
Written Especially for Central Press and The Daily Record

Erwin is no superman. But he is to me—because he's always had an exceptional ability to do what he has set out to accomplish.

That ability was perhaps first recognized by B. J. Lamme, chief engineer for Westinghouse when Erwin got his first job there as an 18-year-old apprentice.

Lamme gave Erwin his first break. He helped him explore engineering from the ground up, and when my husband became president of General Motors in 1941, he proved to be the right man for the job.

Erwin brought a remarkable amount of knowledge to his Pentagon job. Despite his critics, he knows what he's talking about.

Apart from his ability, a large measure of his success stems from his character. For one thing, he never speaks ill of people. He's always believed that if you can't say something good about a person, you'd better say nothing.

Then too, he has a wonderful, even-tempered disposition.

Labor leaders used to say at General Motors that he could stick to a point if he felt he was right regardless of what was said during an argument. They could never make him angry. When they first began to deal with him, they found he was not a cold-blooded industrialist but very humane and tolerant.

Of course, after 41 years of marriage and a family of three sons and three daughters, I can vouch for this, too.

Our marriage has been very much of a success. Apart from our good fortune, we've had our ups and downs. In 1927, for example, Erwin even had to borrow money to set up a trust fund for the children's education.

He used to be so thrifty that, in order to save money, he would go around the house turning off all the lights about the first of the month when the bills became due. (Editor's note: In 1952, Mr. Wilson earned $581,000 in salary and bonuses.)

Living with Erwin has never been monotonous. He's apt to call me at any time and say, "Be ready in an hour, we're leaving for Chicago," or some other place.

I don't mind the frequent trips out of town, even though some are without me. His health is good and he can stand them. But Erwin's lack of recreation keeps me worried. He needs to get more time off.

He hasn't even time for an occasional game of golf. But he does get in a good, stiff game of bridge now and then. The President and Erwin played bridge all the way across the Pacific when they made their now-famous trip to Korea together.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson enjoy evening together.

I like traveling, too, and when my husband retires as secretary, we'll perhaps have time for some leisurely sightseeing.

My husband is too active for permanent retirement, however. I would not want him to be idle anyway. For one thing, I suppose we'll have more time when he gives up his defense post to devote to our farm near Oxford, Mich., where we raise prize-winning Ayrshire cattle.

Apart from his many grand qualities, I wouldn't say Erwin is artistic. When I asked him last

PSES Closes Branch Office At Milford

Milford—Branch office of Pennsylvania State Employment Service was closed here yesterday because of the decrease in number of claims serviced.

Carl Denz, acting manager of the East Stroudsburg PSES office, disclosed the shutdown which he said also occurred last Summer. The office was open each Wednesday.

The itinerant headquarters for Pike County was reopened in January of this year.

With the increased hiring, especially by resort establishments, the number of claimants has declined to about 15, he added.

Claimants still seeking benefits may be serviced at offices in East Stroudsburg, Honesdale, or Port Jervis, N. Y. Jack Dougherty, of East Stroudsburg, was in charge of the office in the Courthouse here.
